School Year Begins with Teacher Strike

Both the school district and the city of Eugene were divided by a nine day teachers' strike that was fraught with argument, emotion and even violence. The Eugene Education Association (the 4J teachers' union) voted to strike after months of fruitless salary negotiations with the School Board. Teachers from all over the city (the union saw a 90% participation rate) walked the lines carrying signs proclaiming that they were "On Strike" and that most of them would "rather be teaching." Violence occurred around the city when the School Board attempted to run the schools as usual with substitute teachers who were bussed to the schools. However, North's record remained fairly clean. As Principal Don Essig put it, the atmosphere at North was probably "the best in the district."

A sign that brought mixed emotions.

For Ray Chinn and others, humor helped ease the pain

Gary Arne, Tammy Epperson, and Rhonda Farrell give Guy Villegas a banana welcome.

Hello Week proceeds as usual

New faces filled North halls during 'Hello Week' — the faces of incoming sophomores and substitute teachers. The replacement teachers joined in as early as registration to keep the school 'open' during the strike. Although North was plagued with an unusual situation, the students, teachers and administrators still pulled through. Registration was delayed by one day, but the 'Hello Assembly' went on as scheduled. Among the festivities at the assembly was the filbert rolling, banana eating, and baby bottle drinking contest, followed up with a lesson in kissing for incoming sophomores from seniors Doug Priaulx and Sandy Morris. From their 'Little Pig' noses, the new Highlanders heard the 'CHEERS' sung for the first time. Seniors Mike Provoncha and Mark Stringfield were correct when they assured the crowd of a victory, as that night the football team rolled over Sheldon 35-0. The Hello Dance was postponed until the strike was over and the students danced to the music of 'Diamond Jackson' for a night of fun. 'Hello Week' was short but still held the Highlander enthusiasm.

The sophomores frantically "pray" for protection against the barrage of filberts during the Hello Assembly.

Costumes add spirit to Homecoming Week

Homecoming Week saw an assortment of costumes ranging from mice to monsters, revealing the spirit of North's student body. The week's events began with Animal Day. By Tuesday the animals had turned into dancers, marking Disco Day. The traditional pizza feed was held at Abby's on Twins Day. On Thursday, which was Halloween Day, the powderpuff football rivalry came to life as the underclassmen and senior teams tied at 7-7. The week was topped off with students showing their support at the North-vs-Churchill game by wearing red and white. Even though North lost the game, 10-14, the Highlanders were there to show the extra spirit and support, characteristic of Homecoming Week which lasted through the Homecoming Dance.

Laughter is Mr. Essig's only response, as Gary Arne attempts to impress him.

"Miracle Worker" is winter drama

North Eugene's drama department made a change in the repertoire this year as the staff, under the direction of Carl Markworth, produced a serious, even intense drama — William Gibson's "Miracle Worker." The play was a sharp contrast to the traditional comedies, melodramas and musicals produced in past years. This story of the life of the famous blind and deaf woman, Helen Keller, required intense concentration on the part of the actors, so the play was rehearsed in total privacy.

In order to achieve a realistic effect and to make it possible for the actors to 'get in character' and really believe that some of them were blind and deaf, the cast studied various handicapped people in Eugene. They then gave a free performance for deaf and otherwise handicapped people.

A startled Tim McFall looks on just before he is kidnapped by Convention Gangsters.

McFall picked at Convention

Once again, North Eugene's Nominating Convention was a success. The ninth annual Convention was the scene of Georgia peanuts, southern belles, and even Montana's "big sky." Convention enthusiasts made posters and nominated delegates from Social Studies classes. After listening to the candidate's speeches, the delegates represented their class by casting votes for the candidates.

By the end of the day, the nominees were finally decided. Tim McFall and Scott Carpenter walked away with the nomination for A.S.B. President. The Vice-Presidency nomination was awarded to D'Anne Tramp and Alisa Bear. The other nominees decided by the Convention were Keith Wilder and Joan Cowles for Treasurer, Student Manager, Guy Villegas and Mary Hunter.

The general election was held in January with Tim McFall elected President, D'Anne Tramp, Vice-President; Stu Allison, Secretary; Keith Wilder, Treasurer; Todd Gentry, School Board Representative; Bev Mills, Historian; Guy Villegas, Student Manager. The executive council appointed Carol Benedick Administrative Assistant and Diana Madegman as Parliamentarian.

Randy Simmon's attention is attracted by the "California Girl" delegates.

Delegates to the mock convention await the second roll cali.

Student Manager, Gary Arne asks Rick Maurmann to cast Kentucky's votes.

Sprachfest proves to be big success during spring

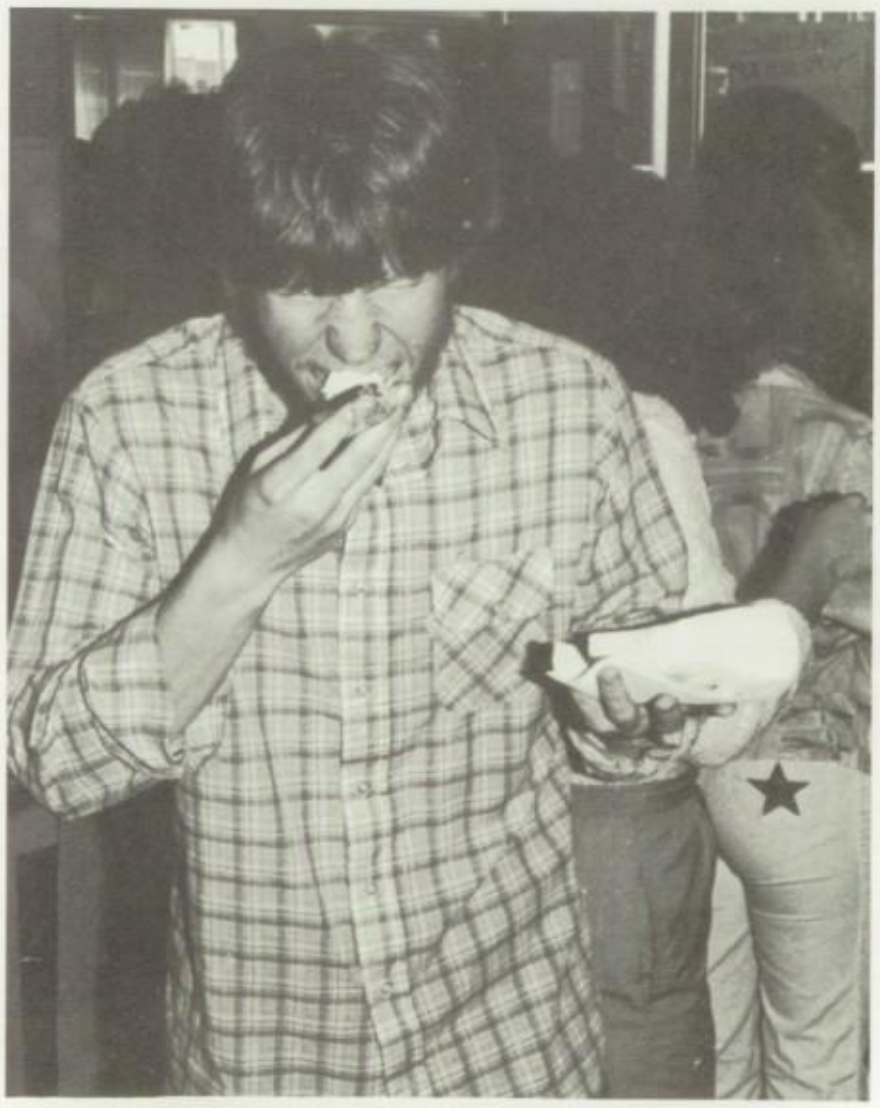
Following a presidential committee's investigation of foreign language, Jimmy Carter labeled America's lack of interest in languages as "scandalous." In response to this, North's Language Department organized Sprachfest. Through this festival, Frau Collins, Senior Dalcour, and Madame Kinkle hoped to stimulate students' interest in foreign language.

Upon completion of reciting a phrase in a foreign language, students were issued tokens. These tokens enabled the student to buy food specialties of foreign countries, such as French crepes, German Cakes, and Spanish cookies. In addition, the German classes sponsored a flower booth, the Spanish class delivered happy notes, and the French, a kissing booth. In the kissing booth were French student, Lisa Tabbut and Brian Casey from a local radio station.

Sprachfest met with such a good response, that the Foreign Language Department hoped to make it an annual event, encouraging students to try a foreign language.

Diane Moody and Lisa Morgan look as though they would rather have Tim Hanson than the German cake he is serving.

Brian Casey thinks girls are actually giving him tokens for this.



From the way Doug Priaulx scarfs down this crepe, it's evident he thought Sprachfest was a success.

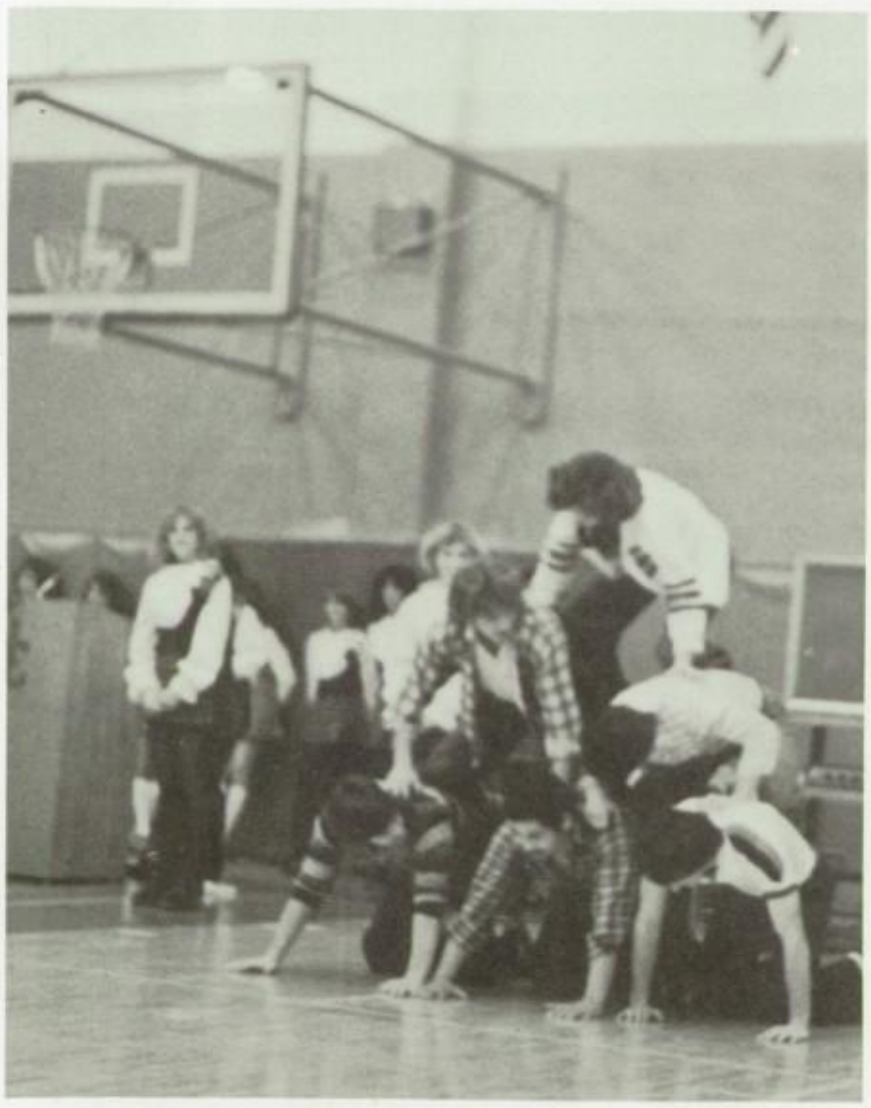
"I'm a senior, you're a senior, we are seniors all . . ." cheers the again victorious senior class during competition yells.

Rally squads work magic

The Varsity and J.V. rally put in long hours and hard work in an effort to come up with interesting and spirited skits. One of their most memorable skits involved an imitation of the football team. Another was the introduction of the basketball team by the rally.

The Lassies also contributed to come up with some of the most entertaining skits, such as "Lassie Says." It was a satire on "Simon Says" with Don Essig, George Krupicka, and Terry Viohl making an effort to beat the Lassies at their game.

The assemblies always ended with competition of yells between the classes and the rally and Lassies leading the student body to the song "cheers."



Elaine Omdahl moves to the top of the pyramid, winning the contest for the senior class.

Julie Plants and Deanna Dunn make fun of "Disco South" in an assembly.

Maria frantically attempts to teach the Von Trapp children to sing 'Do Re Mi' for the first time.

"Sound of Music" a major event

More than 4000 people saw one of the best in a long line of musicals as North's Drama Department presented The Sound of Music. Nine weeks of hard work went into production of the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical.

The story depicts the union of a stodgy Austrian captain and his stifled children with a light-hearted nun — a union that was made possible by the characters' love of music.

The cast performed the well-known songs made famous by Julie Andrews' and Christopher Plummer's performances years ago. The songs included "Climb Every Mountain," "Eidelweiss" and "My Favorite Things."

The cast gave a special informal performance for the cast of Springfield High School's musical. A pizza party followed the showing, and North's cast then watched a showing of Springfield's Fiddler on the Roof.

Max Detwiler smiles slyly as he makes plans for the Von Trapp family's escape to Switzerland.

"Precious and Few" was the theme for the 1980 Prom held at the Black Angus.

Couples dressed in their best, danced from 8 p.m. to midnight to music provided by the group, Pacific.

Upon arriving at the Prom, voting was held to select a Queen and her court. Senior Tanya Villegas received the Queen's crown while Trish Spilman, Penny Tompkins, Della DeBates, and Tammy Epperson were elected to the court.

The Prom gives students the chance to dance and socialize before the year ends.

Breakfast held at school

A large majority of the seniors showed up early graduation day, to be greeted by hosts in bath robes, and the cafeteria food everyone knew so well at the 1980 Senior Breakfast.

For the first time ever, the Senior Breakfast was held on the North Eugene campus, in the cafeteria, due to a mix up in reservations.

Several of the awards given were:

Lenny & Squiggy: Steve Cole and Doug Wicks.
Laverne & Shirley: Kim Spangler and Trish Spillman.
"Hi Sailor! New in Town?": Tammy Dow.
Most Likely to Succeed: Bonnie Muncie and Tracy Jones.
The Jerk: Gary Arne.
Finally in Love: Keith Baltrusch.

President Brett Klein officially opens Baccalaureate.

Vicky Hall is amazed she waited for cafeteria food.

It's questionable as to whether Renee Mitchell is laughing at the jokes, or the way her friends eat.

Senior Breakfast hosts Mark Stringfield, Kent Bostick, Darren Rice, and Terry Thomas barely made it!

Derrick Jee and Kirk Reynolds demonstrate the difficulty of flipping one's tassel to an amused Tanya Villegas.

Barb Dymock speaks on the significance of Proverb 16.

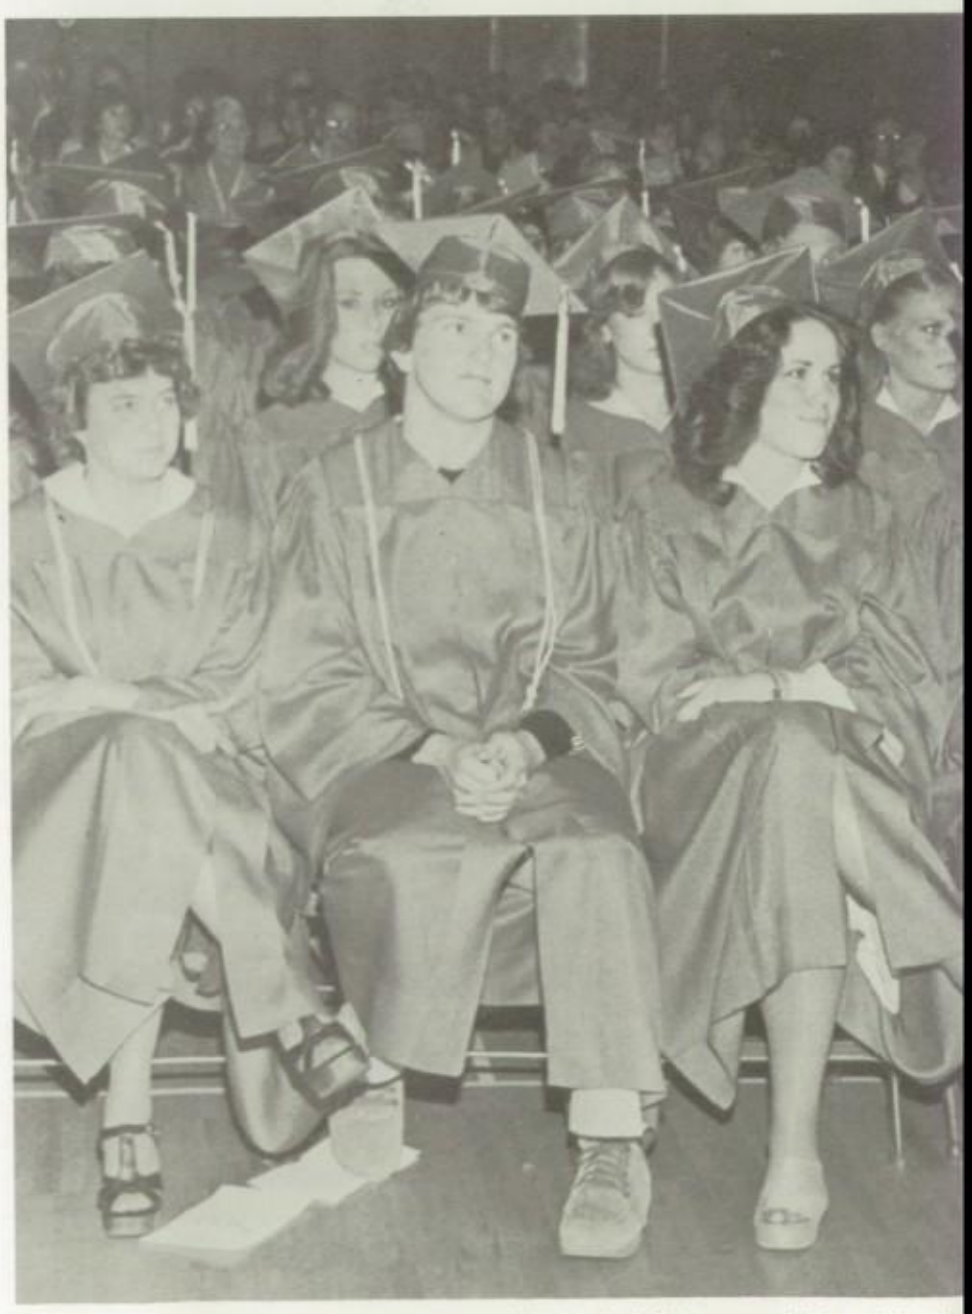
Michelle Werner says good-bye to Principal and friend, Don Essig.

Laurie Prondzinski realizes that this is her last moment as a North student.



The Class of 1980 thinks seriously about North, their futures, and the advice be given by senior speaker, Brenda Getty.

Bill Dufek ponders the future, while Kevin Raey and Joe Levitski seem only to be concerned with the party set for after graduation.

An elated Trish Spillman shares her happiness with a friend.

"All American Kids" finally get diplomas

On the night of June 5, 1980, 307 "All American kids" and North's two foreign exchange students filed into the gym to bid their formal good-byes to the North Eugene High School.

The Commencement program, unlike those in the past, was streamlined in hopes of keeping the evening short, in order to permit more time for the many planned post graduation parties and events. The awards announcements were omitted and a program insert listing honors was given to family and friends of the graduates.

Introductions, made by Senior Class President Brett Klein, followed the traditional — Pomp and Circumstance Processional. Brenda Getty then gave speech, "I Go My Way." "Graduation Day" was performed by the A Cappella Choir. Tracy Walton then spoke about "The Beginning."

The North Eugene Stage Band followed with their rendition of "Quintado."

Principal Don Essig offered his charge to the Class of 1980, diplomas were then given out by Essig, William Personen, Dan Barnum and Dennis Davis. The evening was brought to a finish by the Stage Band playing "Temptation" as the graduated seniors filed out of the gym and into life.

Deanna Ruland and Ed Schlosser promise each other this isn't really good-bye.

An excited Row 2 get ready to march into the gym and on into life.

Bonnie Lefort and Vici Guthrie know that graduation is just the beginning of a life-long friendship.

Jim Downing seems to show the result of pressures after 12 years of schooling.

Sandy Morris and Marci Seghetti exclaim happily, "We made it."

Busy rally squads learn at clinics

Rally began their busy year by attending a cheerleading camp held at Lewis & Clark College in July.

Through-out the summer and in the early Fall they provided the football team with refreshments after doubles practices. Their other Fall activities included helping to plan homecoming week along with planning assemblies.

The winter season kept them busy providing refreshments and decorating the locker room for the basketball teams.

The traditional Highland Fling was performed by the Varsity Rally at the North-South game and the group was involved in several fund raising projects to help pay for the costs of the uniforms and a possible State Tourney Trip.

Lassies shift approach to jazz and disco steps

The North Eugene Lassie's tended to move away from the traditional routines and more toward the jazz and disco steps.

This added variety to the routines performed at home basketball and football games.

Led by Co-Presidents Shelley Cluster and Renee Mitchell, the Lassies were involved in many fun and rewarding activities.

During the summer they held car washes, garage sales and were participants in the Emerald Empire parade in July.

Their activities during the school year included attending a dance workshop at South Salem in the fall, selling Red and White shakers at the games, and also working as runners in the convention. They also planned a few pep assemblies. The group sponsored the Spring dance in April.

Other officers included Renee Issacs, Secretary and Kathy Davis, Treasurer.

Executive Council works for change

The 1979-1980 Executive Council worked toward major physical improvements in the school halls. New wall benches were purchased and installed in the hallways so that more room could be provided in the lounge and lunchroom areas. The Council also financed a display case in which teachers' pictures were placed. Besides obvious improvements, "We learned to work together and showed real leadership qualities," said Secretary Brenda Severns.

A major portion of the year was spent on preparation for the annual convention. Tracy Jones, Student Body President, was in charge and jobs were then delegated.

The convention was held Friday, January 18, where new Student Body officers were nominated.

Committees

Committees were chosen to help improve communication between the executive council and members of the student body.

The Budget Committee allocated all student funds to proper clubs and organizations that requested them. They were also in charge of filling out a report and presenting it at a student council meeting.

Honorable Highlanders committee was delegated the job of choosing a boy and girl for each school month to be honored for their outstanding accomplishments.

Unlike previous years, the number of student committees was minimal. Student Council advisor, Steve Handran, said that because of the lack of interest, committees would only be formed that really served student interests.

Talk jocks stay on top

Debate and Forensics had another successful year. In every tournament they entered, North Eugene placed.

Outstanding seniors were Laurie Clark, and Jenny Young. The group visited various colleges for tournaments, such as Linfield College, Lewis and Clark, University of California at Berkeley, plus several high school meets.

The 1980 Forensics team traveled more than any other year and was obviously successful as a result.

AFS provides for exchanges

The North Eugene AFS chapter was one of the most active groups on campus this year. The group was designed to allow students to visit other cultures, and to learn about other people. These goals were certainly met.

For three months, Doug Burke lived in Paraguay, and Steffen Hulegaard visited Chile. Jim Rise spent one year in Switzerland, while Cindy Lauderdale travelled to Bolivia for the school year. Shelley Eriksen returned from her year in New Zealand.

Many North students hosted Philomath High students, and 13 of the NEHS group went to Philomath, Oregon for one week to experience a small school, and rural life.

Carmen Bartolome, Spain.

Clan welcomes Jaap, Carmen

Jaap Willem Hillenius was an exchange student from Holland who spent the year in the home of senior Jim Rise.

Jaap explained that one big difference between his country and the U.S.A. was the size of America. But, he added, the Netherlands are just as modern. He lived 7 miles from the school he attended, but preferred to ride his bike there. "Almost never you will find a student driving to school."

"The cultural differences, were minimal," he said.

Carmen Bartolome, and 18 yr. old senior, came to North from Talavera de la Reina, Toledo, Spain. Staying with senior Tracy Walton, she found that many changes had to be made because of the difference in cultures. In Spain, Carmen explained there is no drinking age and they also bathe in groups. "The teachers," Carmen said, "go from room to room, not the students, and English is also required for seven years."

Carmen said that she loved "Beatles" music and also enjoys all the "cheesy food" in America.

All in all, Carmen said "I love my family and I don't want to leave. America stole my heart."

DECA members win honors

DECA opened up its busy year by attending Fall Leadership Conference held at Linn-Benton Community College. Soon after this, three Deca members, Dave Bird, Barbara Jones, and Theresa Mitchell participated in the Western Regional Conference at Salt Lake City, Utah.

The State Leadership Conference was held in Portland where Bird placed second in Advertising Service and went on to compete in the National Leadership conference in Miami, Florida.

In another part of the school, North Eugene's radio station, KRVM, operated with an expanded staff. The station operated for an hour and a half every day, with two disc jockeys handling forty-five minute shifts.

Programs consisted of music, news, and even sports reports.

With more people interested in the class, KRVM had a larger staff. "We improved the quality of our shows this year," said senior Chris Scherp.

Language festival a major success

Sprachfest, was a festival designed to stimulate interest in foreign language. The French, German and Spanish clubs all worked together to provide several booths for the event. Each gave out samples of different foods, flowers, and one even set up a kissing booth. The favors were purchased with tokens which students earned by saying a foreign phrase.

Highlights of the Spanish Club year included cultural cooking and a Flamenco Dance group.

French Club enjoyed movies and a trip to the French restaurant, L'auberge.

Members of the German Club enjoyed a trip to Portland and the advantage of having a Swiss student teacher.

All of the Clubs attended and enjoyed the annual spring picnic.

Honorable Highlanders

The Honorable Highlanders Committee selected 24 seniors this year, worthy of honor in various areas. Awards were made on a monthly basis, using a specified category for each month.

A change concerning specific categories was made this year, along with the number of seniors chosen. This year, the committee combined the Leadership and School Service categories, and added a category for Publications. Also going against traditional practices, more than two students were selected for each month in several cases.

The categories used were: Personality, Fall Sports, Publications, Forensics, Leadership/School Service, Drama, Spring Sports, Music, and Scholarship.

Choirs provide lots of music

"Choir was really improved," said vocalist Deana Ruland in summing up the year.

The Fine Arts Department provided three different choirs to fit the interest of most all students.

Girls' Chorale was made up of girls wanting to learn the basics in music. ACapella was for the more advanced singers and Pipes was a group primarily interested in singing jazz.

All three groups participated at the Christmas and Spring concerts and Pipers gave extra benefit concerts throughout the year.

There were two week-end retreats held for the choirs; the first to help members become better acquainted , and the second was held at a campground in the spring. It was a farewell trip for the seniors.

Orchestra again gives big sound

Orchestra started its busy year early by performing on Parent Night, in October, with elementary string students also performing.

They also held their annual Christmas Concert during the holidays.

One of the main accomplishments for the orchestra was providing the music for the spring play, "Sound of Music."

Their final concert was held in late May.

Frank Pauly earned the coveted "Outstanding Contribution to the Orchestra" honor having played the violin since 1st grade, was also the Concertmaster for the group.

Publications move in right direction

Tartan Staff encountered problems in finding time to work on the annual at the start of the year.

Because of a school district decision, it was impossible to have yearbook as a class. As a result the staff had to use their free periods and work after school to put the yearbook together.

Production was slow to start but picked up momentum as the year progressed. During second semester, a class time was provided for the no credit course and production moved ahead rapidly.

Another part of journalism was the Quill & Scroll Society.

It was designed to honor students for their journalistic efforts. The initiation was held in late May with twelve new members inducted into the chapter.

A change in the method of distribution and publishing on a monthly basis were qualities that characterized the 1979-80 Caledonian.

The paper was edited by Steffen Hulegaard who had spent the summer as an exchange student in Chile. He and a small staff of reporters were off to a slow start following the strike, but the paper soon improved.

Highlanders win big ones during season

North Eugene, a much improved team under fourth year coach Hank Bendix, started the season with an impressive 35-0 rout over the Sheldon Irish. The game was all North's from the start. Senior Mark Stringfield ran for 90 yards rushing and added two touchdowns for the winning highlanders.

The Highlanders then put their 1-0 record up against the Marshfield Pirates. The Highlanders fell behind 21-7 at half. They did, however, make a good game of it, before finally getting beat 28-21. Next the improved Millers of Springfield met the Clansman at Silke Field. North destroyed the Millers, behind the throwing of senior Bryan Osterhout who threw for 210 yards enroute to a 41-6 victory.

North then met winless Willamette at Autzen Stadium and the Wolverines never did get on track as the Highlanders rolled to a 54-0 win. North then took their 3-1 record to Cottage Grove, where they could only muster up one field goal and took an ugly beating 22-3. With a dissappointing loss and a 3-2 record, North took a tough one from Thurston 0-7.

The following week North travelled to the coast to take on the Bulldogs of North Bend. Stringfield rushed for 91 yards and 2 touchdowns in beating them 30-12.

Homecoming week festivities were somewhat shattered by the loss to league leading Churchill 14-10. In this encounter, both teams moved the pigskin up and down the field before the Lancers tallied the winning score in the fourth quarter.

Concluding the season, the annual Civil War with South Eugene was filled with the usual high intensity. North would move into a playoff berth with a victory, but the Axeman threw a bomb with little time remaining and ended any hopes for a playoff. The final score was 17-14 for South.

Several Clansmen selected for the All-District teams were: First team members, Fullback Mark Stringfield, Wide Receiver Kent Bostick, Linemen Devin Couts and Ed Schlosser. Second team members included, End Terry Outcalt, Tight End Richard Sears, and Quarterback Bryan Osterhout.

Scots finish year on winning note

With some inexperienced juniors and sophomores, North's J.V. football team showed their talent, finishing the season with a 6-2-1 record and third place finish in the league.

After losing to Sheldon, the team came back from a 14-0 halftime deficit at a tough time, only to lose in the final minute 14-13.

The Scots went into the last contest only one game out of second. The team did their part beating South 10-0 but Thurston won taking possession of second place. Head Coach Jim Schmeiding gave credit to players saying, "They knew what they had to do and went out and did it."

At the end of the season, the 2nd annual J.V. banquet gave the team a chance to give awards to special players and thanks to the coaches and J.V. Rally.

Richard Pollard was presented with the M.V.P. Offensive award and Randy Simmons was given the M.V.P. Defensive award.

Soccer team just misses playoffs

The Varsity Boys' Soccer team had eight experienced players return from the 1978 state playoff team as they ended a winning season with a 9-1-3 showing. The team just missed the state playoffs again by one half a game.

Being the only team in the district to tie with South Eugene, the mighty Highlanders tied them twice. At their game, South scored just before halftime and North responded by scoring early in the second half. Neither team was able to score again and the final remained 1-1.

The junior varsity team gave up 4 players that were moved up to the varsity level. Of the four, sophomore Dennis Medina proved to be a real asset to the team. He played the position of striker as he scored the only goal against South.

Senior Jerry Stutz was named to the all league team and Bill Hines was Honorable mention.

A team with potential

Boys' Junior Varsity Soccer team ended their fall season with a record of 4 wins, 5 losses and 2 ties. It was hard getting started, according to Coach Nick Sage, as he spoke of the season opening during the teacher strike. The team consisting of 13 juniors and 11 sophomores, found it frustrating.

But despite the strike, the team played well together, and were able to become more consistent as the season progressed. They were also able to adjust adequately when any outstanding players were moved up to varsity. Overall they were a "team made up of players with a lot of potential," Sage said.

Unusual start ends on successful note

The girls' soccer team had an unusual season as they started the first two weeks with a coach and then spent the next three weeks without anyone to help them compile a 6-3-3 record.

The girls relied on their own abilities and two upperclasswomen for leadership. Senior Candi Walker was voted captain by her teammates and fulfilled her role by keeping the team organized during those three weeks.

After getting another coach, the girls proved their talent by keeping up with South Eugene, the number one team. They tied the Axemen in the last game of the season and put the Highlanders into 3rd place. This forced a playoff between South and Sheldon.

With 11 sophomores and juniors returning, the team could be stronger next year.

Waterpolo team grabs second in district, fourth at state

With new hats, the girls' waterpolo team ended their season with a 5-4 record, placed 2nd in district, and took 4th in the state waterpolo competition.

It was a "serious" season according to Coach Bill Kuzmer as he spoke proudly of the girls. "We had to play Sheldon twice to get to state," he said. At the first meeting with the Irish, North won 7 to 4, and in the second game the Highlanders were able to hold off Sheldon 11-9.

Team captains were seniors Sara Fahey and Carol McClain. Junior Gretchen Wilbur was the team's most valuable player as well as a district and state all-star. Other members who made the district team included junior Pat Sosa, sophomore Linda Bell and freshman Alisa Sosa.

As for the boys' team, Kuzmer characterized them as a young team which won only one meet with five losses.

Junior Pete Lauritzen was captain as well as honored as the most valuable player on the team. He had seven goals against Cottage Grove and ended the season with 15 goals. Sophomores Robert Pitts and Dewayne Colombe were given the award of most improved as they contributed drastically by the end of the season.

Around the league, the team was known for never giving up, as they made Sheldon and Cottage Grove work for their wins. They were a positive team and throughout the season improved their skills.

Competition keen in Cross Country

Cross Country began the season with a rather inexperienced crew as the girls' team included three freshmen, while the boys' team was led by transfer student Rick Zieske.

Competition among the top five runners for the boys was keen, with different runners racing in the second and third positions each week. The boys competed well, finishing fifth in district, while the girls ran as a team only three times because of injuries. As a result, three of North's runners placed in the top 12 in district, with Freshman Carol Drouet placing second. She then went on to state, placing, 10th out of 360 girls, thereby becoming North's first girl to make the cross country all-state team.

The rebuilding year for girls' volleyball

"Our's was a classic rebuilding year," according to Head Coach Jimmy Dowdy. "Of our nine varsity players, we had one senior, six juniors and two sophomores, and our one senior was a transfer who only played with us half a season her junior year," Dowdy said.

Overcoming that inexperience, and a significant lack of height as well, the lady spikers split their first four matches of the season, beating Sheldon and Willamette while falling to league champion Marshfield and play-off-bound Springfield. North pushed it's record above the .500 mark by slowing the tall and experienced Lions at Cottage Grove. After dropping the first game 8-15, the Highlander gals came back to sweep the next two games to take the best out of three matches 15-12, 15-9.

The second half of the season North struggled through road matches against Thurston, Churchill, and South Eugene. The North Ben Bulldogs, headed for the state playoffs, visited North and almost stumbled over the Highlanders before salvaging a 15-8, 2-15, 15-9 win to send the Bulldogs on to post-season action and N.E. to a 3-6 final league record.

Lisa Kilday, the squad's lone senior garnered two of the team's awards: Most Valuable Player and "Super Server" for having served for the most points during the league season. Stacy Leck, a hardworking junior setter, was named the year's Most Improved Player.

Gymnasts improve as year advances

"I am proud of the girls attitudes toward their own personal improvement," stated Head Coach Linda Lund about her young gymnastics team.

Consisting of four freshmen, one sophomore and two seniors, the improving girls' gymnastics team had a record of one win and four losses, with their only win coming against Sheldon.

Overall they placed sixth in District out of a total of nine teams. Captain, Michelle Evearts, a top competitor, qualified for state in the vault, and placed 11th with a score of 8.65 out of a possible 10.00.

The Highlander gymnastic team didn't have one of its better years, but used the season for building experience.

With their only win coming against Sheldon, the boys' gymnastics team had a record of 1 win and 6 losses. Although no one made it to the district finals, Mike Jackson and Gordon Wilson performed well in the David Douglas meet.

All team members will be returning next year, although with the districts budget problems, the possibility of a team appears slim.

Clansmen take strong second in district

With a great deal of experience and maturity, the Highlanders managed to finish second place in the District 5AAA battle with a 14-4 league record, two games behind league champion Churchill.

North, like last year, started with a blaze as they won all but one league game in the first half of the season, losing only to Churchill. The second half wasn't quite as good, as the Clan lost to Churchill by 3 points, Sheldon by 1 point and South Eugene by 5 points.

North then was involved in a post-season play-off with North meeting Sheldon and South against Marshfield. The Highlanders showed a lot of hustle as they dug themselves out of a 12 point deficit and came on to win 62-59. Terry Thomas led the Highlanders scoring 22 points.

The Highlanders weren't as fortunate against South Eugene, however, as the mighty Highlanders couldn't contain South's offensive weaponry and lost 70-61.

Bill Dufek and Vic Sears both broke season records for the Highlanders. Dufek broke his own record in assists, recording an astounding 183. Vic Sears also was a factor as he broke the season shooting percentage.

Awards were given for the Most Valuable, Terry Thomas; Best Defensive, Darren Rice; Most Improved, Vic Sears; and Team Leader, Darren Rice.

Scots compile a winning record

The North Eugene Scotsman compiled a winning record of 10 wins and 8 losses, for the 1979-1980 J.V. basketball season. They also won four pre-season games.

The most amazing statistic that didn't show in the record book but would remain in the player's minds is that out of 22 games played 12 were won or lost by five points or less, including five overtimes; two of which went into double overtime.

Coached by Phil Dubois and assist. coach Ken Jensen the Scotsman performed well all year, especially under pressure.

Girls' record goes up — down

The girls' Varsity basketball team struggled to a 9-9 league record in a rebuilding year under new Head Coach Lee Temple, but they qualified with their 5th place finish in the final standings for the league playoffs. In the playoffs for the second league birth in the State playoffs, the Highlanders fell to a league runner-up Marshfield 40-37 in overtime despite 13 points from Junior Kristi Schulze and 10 from Senior Jill Drury.

The loss ended a roller coaster season for the North girls who dropped tough decisions to League Champion Sheldon, 43-38, and Cottage Grove, 42-40, in their league openers before defeating five straight opponents including Marshfield, 32-31. The Highlanders then struggled through the next seven games, sliding from third to sixth place in the league by dropping six contests.

The Highlanders ended their losing skid with a school record for team scoring in a 66-30 rout over helpless North Bend, giving the girls the momentum to scramble for the remaining playoff spot. Schulze, who ripped the nets for 17 points against the Bulldogs, tallied 16 more in the Highlanders 61-44 crushing of South Eugene while Junior Kip Foster hit a season high of 21 points. A loss to Churchill was followed up with a regular season ending; 47-46 victory over Willamette, giving the Highlanders sole possession of 5th place. Again Schulze, who was the second leading scorer in the league, averaging 14.5 points a game, led North's attack.

The girls set a school record for team scoring, averaging 42.2 points a game.

At the team banquet, Hadley, a third team All-League, was named the teams' Most Valuable Player, while Schulze, named to the All-District first team, was awarded best offensive player, and Drury was named most improved.

Girls rack-up record of 12-10 for season

The J.V. Girls' Basketball team, "came a long way on individual skills," Coach Eric Staniak said as the girls ended their winning season of 12 wins and 10 losses.

They started by winning 3 out of the 4 pre-season games. Cottage Grove (34-31) and Churchill (38-34) were major wins for the girls as they ended their first half of league play with a 5-4 mark.

There was hardly any difference in the second half. The girls played a tough third and fourth quarter against Thurston but weren't able to capitalize the win as they lost a close one, 35-38. Their second half record was 4-5.

Leading scorer Shannon O'Malley averaged 6.6 points per game and was named by her teammates best defensive player. Team captains were Tracy Ray and Jolene Leonard. Sophomore Sherry Wolfe was the team's most valuable player. She sunk free-throws when the team needed them most and was a major factor in winning most of the games. Michelle Shaw was voted most improved as she used her height to grab the rebounds needed for a fast break.

North wrestlers have top season

Compiling one of their best seasons ever, North's matmen took a second in District and racked up a 21-7 record.

"It was a great dual meet season," said Coach George Krupicka. The clan did especially well against the traditionally strong coast schools of North Bend and Marshfield, he said.

Led by seniors Doug Dover and Derrick Jee, who each placed in the state meet, North also managed to claim tenth in state competition.

Junior Mike Thompson did his share by taking a sixth at state and senior Jeff Noakes also wrestled at state.

In the District 5 AAA tourney, Dover and Jee, took firsts, while Thompson and Noakes grabbed seconds. Senior team captain Ron Hanson managed a third place finish in the 136 pound category.

Dover was selected to compete in Federation Wrestling.

Blue skies, good snow greet North skiers

North's ski team was small in size but big in enthusiasm as they took to the slopes during the months of January and February.

The Highlanders only managed to form a boys' team as girl skiers seemed to be few in number. Leading the Clan were seniors Steffen Hulegaard, Jim Rise, and Doug Wicks, and juniors Scot Huck and Doug Drouet on the varsity. Following close behind were junior varsity members Frank Pauly, Dwayne Wellette, Dave Ropchan, Brian Ropchan, Dennis Mitchell, and Eric Sunderland.

Meets were held at Hoodoo Ski Bowl and Mt. Bachelor, with some of the best ski conditions in several years. Leaving the school before dawn on most Saturdays, the skiers were greeted with bright sun and blue skies for most of the six meets.

The season closed on a rather sad note, as the school district made preliminary plans to drop the sport from school curriculum by next winter.

Girls capture district

Again, for the fourth year in a row, the North Eugene Girls' Swim team claimed the title of District Champions.

Their overall dual meet record was 7 wins and 2 losses. In state the Highlanders came up with a fourth place.

Karen Orth and Pat Sosa dominated the free-style heats with Orth, who qualified for Junior Nationals, taking first in both the 50 and 100 meter races.

Sosa also had two firsts in the 200 and 500 meter freestyle. Linda Bell also placed first in the 100 meter breast stroke, and qualified for Senior Nationals.

The Highlander Boys' Swim team, who beat Sheldon for the first time in 10 years, finished with a dual meet record of 7-2.

In district North had three firsts. Senior Pete Lauritzen in the 100 meter back stroke, who also finished second in the 100 meter butterfly; freshman Darren Lajoie who placed first in the 500 meter freestyle; and the 400 medley relay team consisting of Lauritzen, Lajoie, David Lajoie and Gary Orth.

In state competition the team finished in 11th place and the 400 medley relay team finished 7th.

Clan forfeits 4 league games

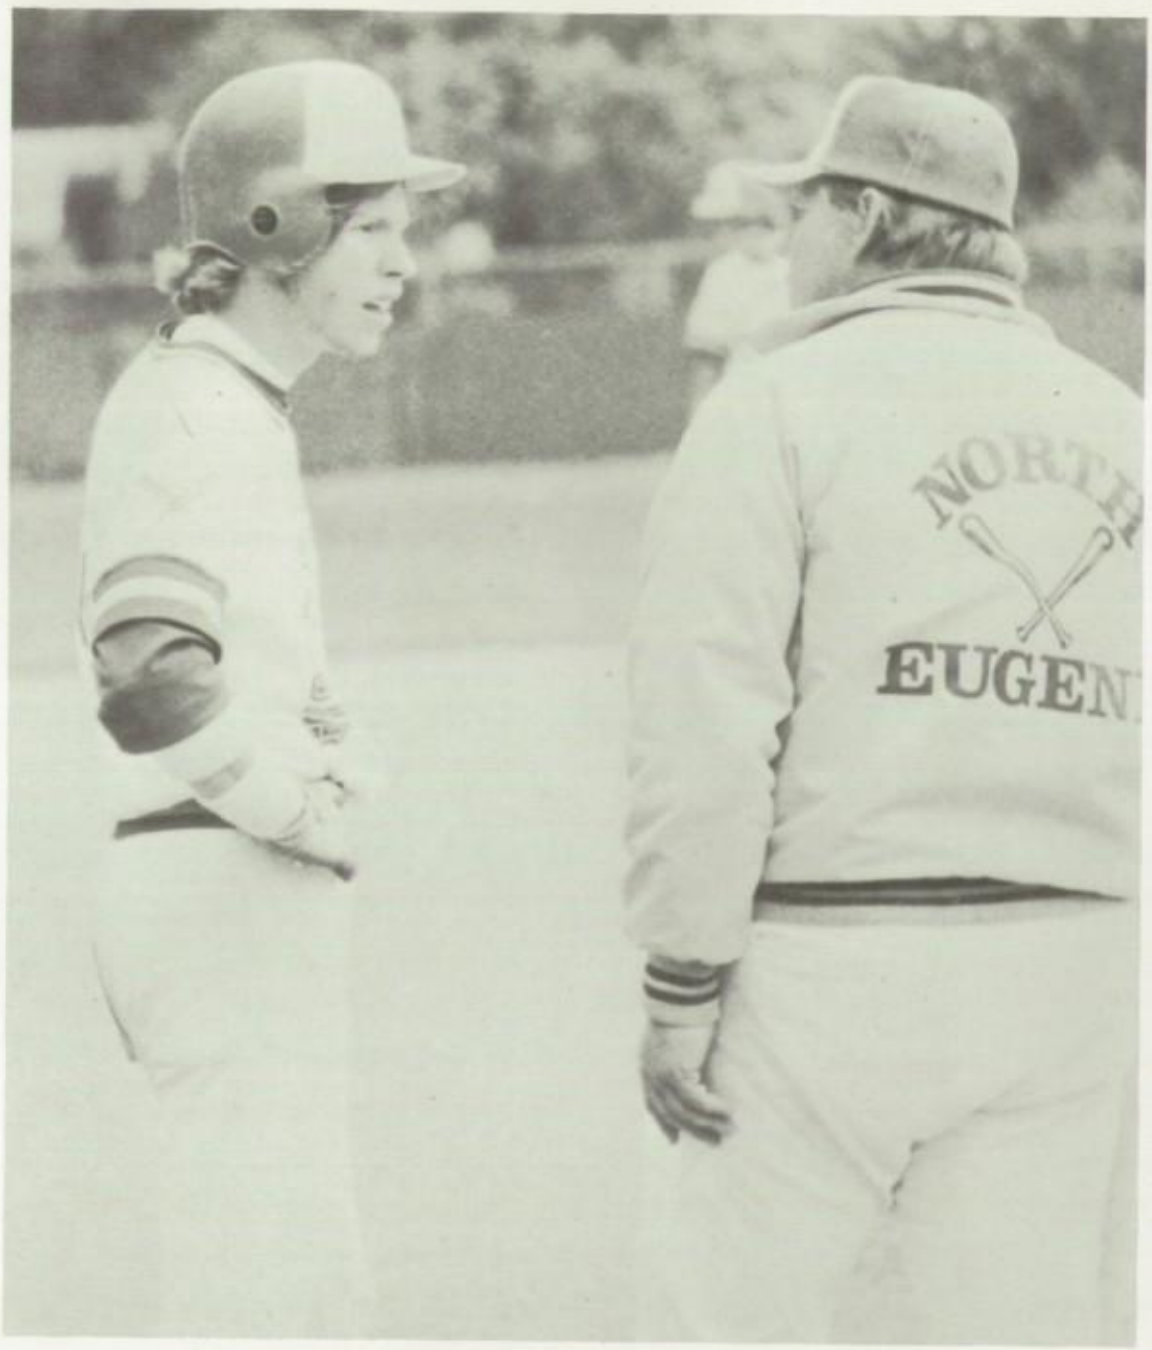
The Highlander baseball team finished on an unusual note having to forfeit four of their last games.

The team compiled a record of 19-12 before the Oregon Scholastic Athletic Association (OSAA) ruled on the four league encounters.

Coach Gary Selby felt the team's youth and inexperience showed but exhibited promise for the future.

Led by seniors Doug Burke and Doug Priaulx, the team managed to take second in league hitting.

Most valuable player went to Burke, while top hitter honors went to Priaulx. Senior Charlie Paylor was honored for winning 22 games in 3 years. Top defensive player went to Brad Goodwin.



"No way, it'll never work," says Doug Priaulx to Coach Garry Selby.

Scots capture a tie for 2nd

Compiling a record of 14-8 for the season, the Scots capped another successful year.

Led by freshmen Flip Lindley and Richard Duke, the team captured a tie for second in the league.

Coach Eric Small characterized the team as young and inexperienced, but felt they were headed for a good year in 1980-81.

The league record of 10-7 was strong evidence of the talented team's ability.

Girls lose title but tie for first

North Eugene's varsity softball team ended the season with a record of 12-2, putting them in a tie for 1st in district.

Only losing two games, one to Churchill and the other to Sheldon, the Highlander's season proved successful. Beating the Lancers 3-2, showed the talent of the young team.

Having no seniors on the team made it difficult for the team to stay at the same level of play. As a result, this contributed to their inability at making it to state.

With the newly adopted rule of second through fifth place teams playing off to see who went, the Highlanders lost their opportunity for state. The team had to playoff a tie for first in district and lost an important game to the Churchill Lancers 8-0. Then in the playoffs, they won their first game against Cottage Grove, and unfortunately lost a chance for state by losing to Sheldon 8-4.

Softball team finishes 10-3

Junior Varsity girls' softball team had an impressive season with a league record of 10-3.

Hadley captures deserved crown

District and State Champion Sharon Hadley led the Highlander girls' golf team to a district title and a respectable 7th in state.

"My game was off and on all season, but overall it was the best year I've had," commented Hadley on her performance. Hadley captured state with a two day total of 157 and district with an 83.

Ann Bartlemay and Pam Drew were in close competition for second and third place on the team, but overall, with the help of Coach John Reed, the team played very well for only practicing a couple months.

State Champion Sharon Hadley anticipates sinking another putt.

Youth dominates North golf team

Sophomore Craig Gall and Junior Jon Oxman led the North Eugene Boys' Golf team to a winning season, recording 17 wins and 13 losses.

Both boys were excellent competitors, with Oxman missing the state tournament by only six strokes over a 36 hole tournament, and Gall becoming the City of Eugene High School Champion.

The Highlanders placed fifth in district play but expect to do better next year. As Head Coach Hank Bendix put it, "All of our players this year were either juniors or sophomores, so next year's team looks strong."

Junior Scott Jackson chip shots his way out of a sand trap.

Hughes sisters tops in doubles

North Eugene's netters had an impressive season placing fourth in State and third in District.

At the district 5 AAA tourney the doubles team of Tristan and Korin Hughes had an easy win for the title, 6-0, 6-0. Tanya Villegas lost a tough match to the number one seed in district singles quarter finals.

Sending only the Hughes doubles team to state, North managed fourth. The Hughes sisters lost in the semi's in three sets. In order to get there, they had to upset the fourth and fifth seed. They were the first North Eugene players to ever reach the State semi's.

Awards given for the season were: Most Valuable, Tristan and Korin Hughes; Most Improved Gina Bryant, and Most Inspirational: Tanya Villegas.

Tristan and Korin Hughes easily win their first round enroute to the district title.

Kneeling: Cathy Hutchinson, Mary Ockelmann, Tristan Hughes, Barb Dymock, Tina Pittman, Tanya Villegas. Standing: Coach Mary Standifer, Shannon Reese, Korin Hughes, Tracy Roshau, Gina Bryant, Barb Girard, Jennifer Johnston, Polly Donahue, Tammy Dow, Asst. Coach Jody Salter.

Terry Rhoads makes a great follow through for another ace.

Boys surprise many with net efforts

Boys' tennis racked up an excellent 10-6 dual meet record behind the experience of eight returning lettermen, but saw their "surprising" season end with a disappointing 7th place finish at the District tournament, as the Highlanders failed to send any players to the State Tournament.

Highlight of the season was a 5-4 win over the previously undefeated and District Champion, Sheldon. The win pushed North's mid season record to 5-1. The Highlanders then struggled to a 7-6 record by dropping four straight matches, but finished the dual meet season with impressive wins over Willamette, Marshfield, and North Bend.

In the District tourney, Seniors Terry Rhoads, number 1 singles, and Jeff Noakes, 3rd singles, teamed up in doubles and earned the second seed for the boys' doubles championship with a 13-3 season record. The duo swept through the first and second rounds, but fell in the quarter finals to the eventual runners-up from Sheldon, 6-2, 5-7, 6-4.

Seniors Terry Thomas, 2nd singles, and Tracy Jones, 4th singles, cruised into the second round at District, but then dropped a close 5-7, 6-4, 7-5 match to Thurston's number 1 doubles team.

At the team banquet, Rhoads was named "Most Valuable Player," Thomas took the "Coaches Trophy," Sophomore Chad Sullivan was given the "Fink" award, and Junior Scott Wade was named team captain for next year.

NE female thinclads have strong season

With their strengths coming from the freshmen and sophomores, the girls' track team had a strong season.

Sophomores Dawn Ray and Shannon O'Malley ran the long distances, while Lori Olsen ran the sprints, and Junior Kip Foster handled the hurdles. The freshmen had a big impact on the team as Carol Drouet ran the 400m, 800m, 1500m, 3000m, long jump and relays.

The girls broke many school records this season. Drouet ran the 400m in 60.0 breaking the old record of 61.1 sec. The 4x100m relay team of Foster, Drouet, Olsen and Michele Emery set a new time of 50.7 for others to follow. Foster, Drouet, O'Malley and Sherry Wolfe made a mark of 4:18.8 in the 4x400m relay.

Four members made it to State as the team took 3rd at the 5AAA District Track Meet. Another freshman, Sue Martineau finished 7th in the 1500m at the State Meet, while O'Malley also ran the 1500m was able to place 11th. Drouet jumped to 9th place in the long jump and Foster qualified in the 300m hurdles.

They had a league record of 6-1 and took the Canadian Invitational in Canada in the middle of the season. At the North Eugene-Sheldon Invitational, the team was able to pull together and place 2nd over-all.

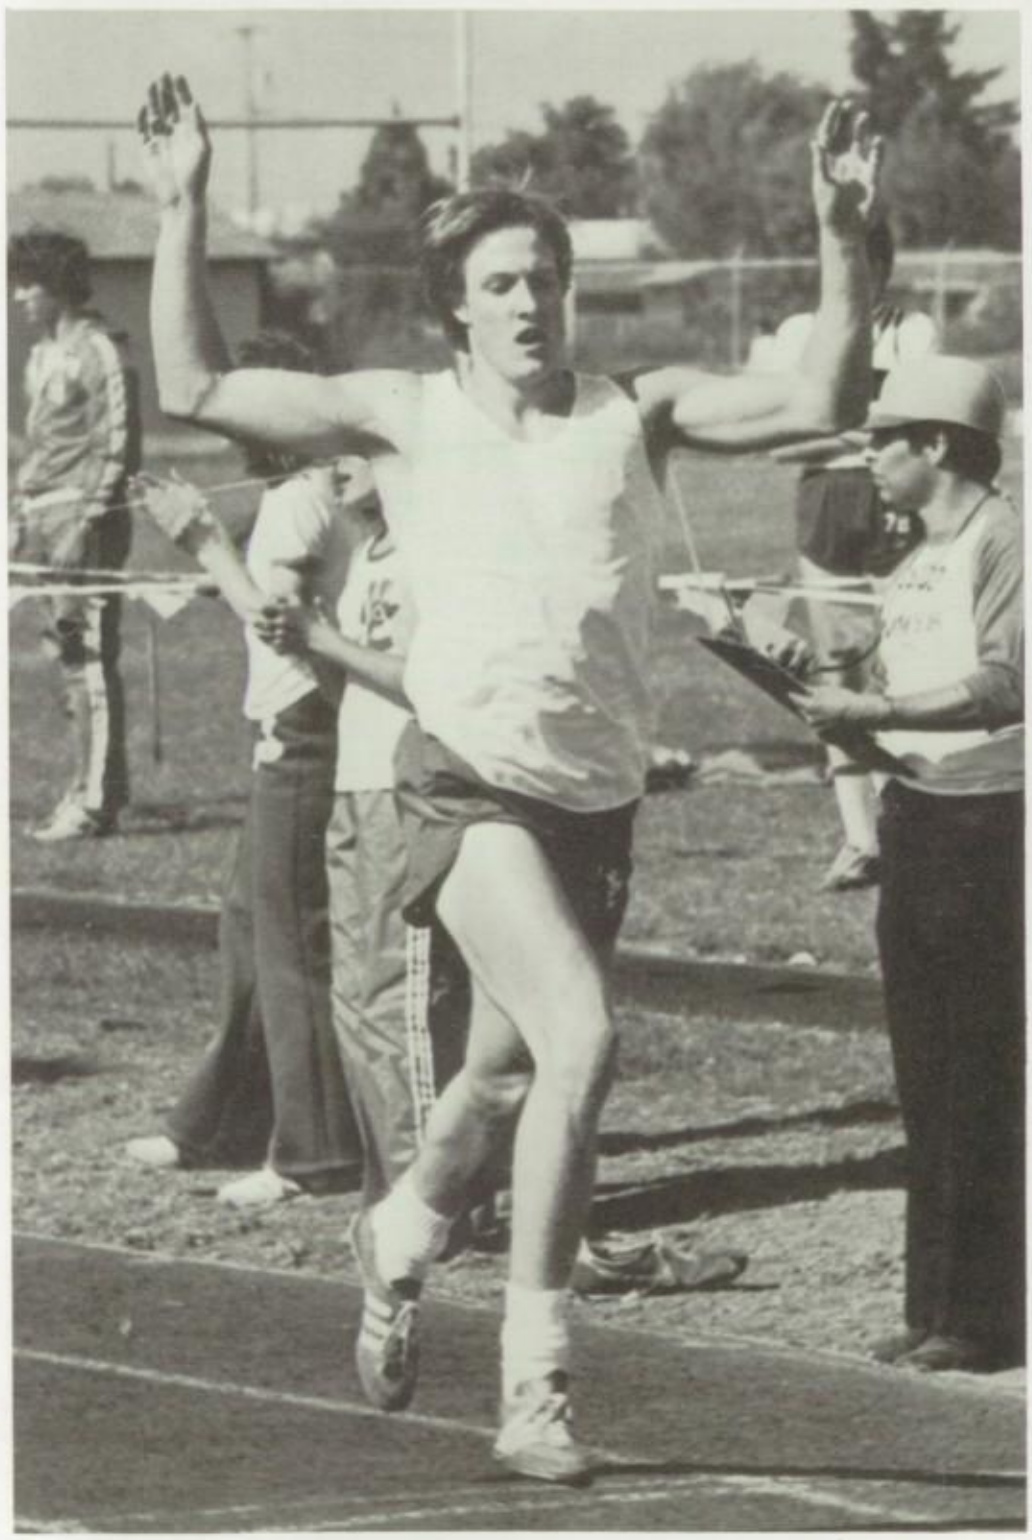
Sherry Wolfe keeps the pace too fast for an Irish runner.



With the thrill of victory in his mind, Senior Richard Sears breaks the tape.

Track team completes another winning year

Shannon O'Malley gives it her all to gain every inch possible.

The boys' track team had a successful year as they travelled to both Canada for the Canadian Invitational and Southern Oregon for the Rogue Relays, where they surprisingly won both meets. They also took 4th place at the North Eugene-Sheldon Invitational. Their league record was 6-0 and lost only one meet during the season.

It was a senior dominated track team this year with Rich and Vic Sears running the 100m, 200m, 400m, 800m, and the relays. Terry Outcalt put the shot, threw the discus. Roger Palmer ran the longer distances, 800m, 1500m, 3000m, and Darren Rice ran the shorter distances of 100m, 200m, 400m, relays and two field events, long jump and the triple jump. The juniors and sophomores contributed a large amount and helped North take a 4th place in district.

Rice qualified for state in the long jump and placed 5th. Outcalt threw the discus for 4th and Senior Bret Crowell took 13th at the Javelin. Both Rice and Outcalt were named to the all-state team.

According to Coach Denny Davis, there are some good sophomores, juniors and freshmen returning next year which should prove to be as rewarding as the past season.

To the Class of 1980

Having had a difficult start in the fall, I must say that the class of 1980 has performed admirably throughout this year to help staff and administration make this an enjoyable and successful year. Among your group there are many who have accomplished a great deal in their high school career, and have given North Eugene many proud moments.

I sincerely hope that each of you have a successful and enjoyable life. Remember to look for the good in people. What we need most of all in this world now is people who can help others feel good about life, and work for a better world. All of you have the opportunity to do that. Don't be afraid to give it a try.

The best to all of you!
Don Essig, Principal

Counseling provides that needed help

The Counseling Center continued to be a much used area of the school. It provided the students with all kinds of college information as well as career materials.

Counselor Dean Baldwin felt that there was more student interest in scholarships and financial aid this year then in previous years.

The Center also added a few new Financial Aid Handbooks and provided more field trips to colleges.

Besides helping students with a variety of problems, counselors taught Decision Making units in sophomore Social Studies Classes.

Social Studies copes with student decline

Social Studies Department experienced staff cutbacks due to declining enrollment.

The year was started by acquiring a number of new textbooks for such classes as World Geography, American History, and American Government in Action.

Sophomores were introduced to two new classes designed for them: Teenage Experience and World Geography I and II.

English staff gets new Depart. Head

The year's most important change for the English Department was the addition of a new department Chairperson, Sue Potter. Transferring in from Sheldon High, she taught Expository III writing classes, along with literature.

For the first time, the department made available, tutoring for competencies for all students.

The Forensics team was again on top, winning numerous awards around the state.

The AP English class also had an eventful year. Besides preparing for the AP test, they did such things as visit Ashland for the Shakespearean Festival, and touring the U. of O.

Math help available for all students

One of the main goals of the Math Department was to continue providing readily available help to students in the Math Center.

The center housed a computer on loan for the year. Also, aide Debi Brooks was available in the center throughout the year to help with math competencies.

The Department also sponsored a team in the Atlantic-Pacific Mathematics League. Although interest was a bit low, the team competed in six contests during the year, on a nationwide bases. The Most Valuable "Mathelete" award for 1979-80 went to Senior Tracy Walton.

Breaking away from the difficult daily classes, students went on several field trips, including a trip to the Bureau of Mines in Albany.

Physiology proves to be popular class

The Science Department offered for the first time a Human Physiology class. This course could either be taken for Lab Science, Health, or Elective Credit.

The class covered the anatomy and physiology of the human body. It also covered health problems and physiological stress which could alter physiological functions.

According to the Department, response to this new class found many students asking for more advanced classes.

New classes added to P.E.

Physical Education Department experienced a loss of staff for the year because of the declining enrollment. As a result, most activities were for larger groups only.

Some of the courses offered to the student body were: softball, basketball, tennis, volleyball, badminton, ping-pong, weight lifting, and jogging.

Also, because of growing interest in after school activities, the curriculum will be expanded to include bowling and roller skating as non-credit courses.

The Health Department continued to offer each of its courses as a self-contained nine-week class. Each dealt with such subjects as Mental Health, First Aid, Sex Education, and Mood Modifers.

A newly added course was "Nutrition and Fitness," where students learned how to evaluate nutritious foods and the importance of fitness.

Interest groups strong in Fine Arts Department

This was the second year at North where Drama, Music, and Art were united to make-up the department of Fine Arts, headed by Robert Foster.

The Drama Department performed two hit plays this year. "Miracle Worker" was the fall play, including a successful performance for a group of deaf people. "The Sound of Music" was the spring musical. A new grand curtain was installed along with new acting and performing platforms.

Introduction to Acting classes performed lip-syncs during the year, both as semester finals and as entertainment for the student body.

The new Humanities class travelled to Ashland for two days for the Shakespearean Festival. If taken for a full year, the new class fulfilled both Art and English credits.

The various choirs: Acapella, Highland Pipers, and Chorale, along with the band and orchestra performed several seasonal concerts. The Choral Choir went to Westwind Island for three days.

Several successful additions to the Arts department were a new class of leathercraft, and a stained-glass making class taught by Doris Lang. Both of these classes triggered a growing interest in art.

Nurses teach classes give students help

One of the Nurse's main functions was to help prevent illness and to provide education which they felt was the best way to good health.

The Home Nursing Classes again were rewarding. Classes were designed to teach students the fundamentals for careers in medicine. Students were also taught to take blood pressure, temperature, and pulse, along with many other helpful hints.

The Nurses also kept busy with records and first aid. They took close to 400 blood pressures for the students and staff throughout the year.

Alma Ross finds it humorous that Robyn Russnogle says she has a fever and can't go to class.

Drivers Ed. classes teach courtesy

Tom Ragsdale was the only teacher of Drivers Education.

Safety, good habits, and courtesy on the road were the prime goals of the course.

Students who enrolled found themselves coming to school by seven in the morning. Although hard at times, it helped them get their drivers licenses.

Due to budget cutbacks Drivers Education would not be offered next year.

Media Center helps in many ways

The Media Center experienced excellent results with the 3-M Company Detection Machine for the second year.

The device cut-down on stolen material from the library much more than the year before. The center's major goal was to provide excellent service to the students and staff with both print and non-print materials.

The Audio-Visual Department also continued to provide excellent service by keeping all film projectors, tape recorders, etc. in working order. The Department also helped with school assemblies and other events.

Special Education teacher John McDonald helps Chris DeVault put the finishing touches on one of his projects.

Gunnar Roos indulges in his form of yoga and relaxes.

Special needs met

North offered a Special Services program aimed at helping students with special needs.

Kristi SanRamoni worked with students interested in Business and Industrial Education classes. She provided instructional time by helping students with reading and writing skills necessary in these areas.

Ferne Kellow taught an organized, individual program designed to help students pass competencies. She provided tutoring time along with teaching a variety of competency based classes. John McDonnell worked with those students needing extra special work.

Student involvement was good in the Industrial Education Department.

Students were involved in the Vocational Education Housing Project. The program included 15 students from area high schools and five from North. After completion, the house was to be sold for $89,000.

A main project for the metal department was building a house trailer for John Reed. Merrill Kellogg felt that the year was productive, and prepared students for a variety of jobs.

Mechanics classes were also offered to students so they could keep their cars in working order.

Bill Riggs uses his craftmanship to build another wood lamp.

Home Ec. offers big variety

A major goal of the Home Economics department continued to be a focus on the quality of life for individuals and families.

North offered a comprehensive program, including classes to meet a variety of the students' needs. Emphasis was placed on consumerism, parenting, energy management, living environments, clothing and textiles, and food and nutrition.

Food, Man, and Culture, Health, Careers, and Exploring With Children, were classes offered that specialized in lab experiences which students learned to explore and investigate effective and satisfying home and career lives for the 1980's.

Another important addition to the department was teacher Nancy Newton.

Business staff expands work

Three new teachers were added to the Business Education staff.

Tom Hagg taught marketing classes and helped students manage the school store. Cheryl Smith taught shorthand, advanced typing, and Diversified Occupations. Beginning typing classes were taught by Jan Schlaadt.

Department Chairperson Louana Lamb was happy with the large enrollment in business classes. The business lab was open all day, throughout the year, and noon hour was a busy time with about 100 students using the lab a day.

The ever-popular school store had a successful year, expanding its merchandise to meet the demands of the student body.

Language classes' popularity gains

The Foreign Language Department put on its first "Sprachfest" during the year, in hopes of increasing knowledge and interest in the area.

The successful language festival included flower booth, a kissing booth, and several food booths.

Another major event of the year was foreign language students' participation in Foreign Language Day at the University of Oregon.

Student teacher Anne-Marie Thompson was an important asset to the department during third quarter, being a native of Switzerland.

The foreign language lab continued to be especially useful. An important goal of the department was to increase the lab's resources, to deal with rising enrollment in the three languages.

Many helpers improve school

The secretaries, clerk-typists, CETA workers, cooks and custodians all worked together to make the school a nice place to learn.

For the first time in several years, the cooks hosted the Senior Breakfast. They carefully prepared scrambled eggs, hash browns, ham, coffee, and orange juice. They also continued to prepare nutritious meals for the student body, throughout the year.

Two new secretaries were added to the staff. Along with the secretaries, clerk-typists, and CETA workers, helped keep records, finances and other information in order for students, organizations, and staff.

Custodians worked hard both day and night keeping the school clean. According to Head Custodian Bob Hass, "1980 was a good year."

SOPHOMORES

Sophs. adjust to Clan life

Progressing from the relatively sheltered world of junior high life, the sometimes ambitious sophomores with untapped energies started their tenure as Highlanders.

Curious, concerned and scared at times, the new Clansmen often became frustrated, but as the year progressed they relaxed and soon merged into the middle of student life.

Behind the encouragement of class President Tony Abena, Vice-President Ayn Alexander, Secretary Rhonda Landers and Treasurer Todd Thomas, the class did well in some of the things they attempted.

Throughout the year the class attempted to get several projects going but had limited success.

JUNIORS

Juniors earn bucks for Prom

Plunging ahead with their annual task of raising money for the Prom, which is held in the spring, the Class came through with barely enough.

In a year of inflated prices, the class sponsored several projects to try and help earn the needed money.

In the Fall a car wash netted some money, and class officers agreed to sponsor a Rally Dance during the winter in an effort to acquire more funds.

Led by President Keith Wilder, Vice President D'Anne Tramp, Secretary Cindy Reed and Treasurer Susan Wullbrandt, the class made a last effort to raise the needed Prom money. The sale of tickets to the event proved to be the necessary push and the year ended on a happy note at the Black Angus.

SENIORS

Senior officers pick painting

With the profits made from the 1979 Junior-Senior Prom, the Senior Class of 1980 enlarged their account by selling sweatshirts and seat cushions.

The hooded pullover shirts were sold for $15.00 and were a big success. The seat cushions were sold at the sporting events during the year.

President Brett Klein, Vice-President Patricia Spilman, Secretary Barb Dymock and Treasurer Brad Stevens started preparations at the beginning of the school year for graduation night which was held on June 5. Their year long efforts proved to be a success on graduation eve.

Ideas for the senior gift were limited or out of their price range, so they decided on an oil painting of North Eugene. The artist was senior Bonnie Wikander who finished the painting by June.

The officers not only planned the graduation ceremony, but would be responsible for all class reunions. Some plans were already made for the first reunion which would be held in 1985.

A volcano erupts

Mount St. Helen before the May 19, 1980 eruption.

The mountain erupts sending tons of ash, cinder and steam skyward. This event could change the lives of all who live in the Pacific Northwest.
